

About Our Instructors

Career Certificates - Private Investigations

Reynaldo Ramirez Jr.

Reynaldo Ramirez, Jr., has taught law, as an adjunct law professor, at Texas Southern University's law school for several years.

In the past 15 years of academic instruction, he has published numerous law review articles, and presented papers for peer review. He is the author of the "Texas Traffic Ticket Dismissal" book, currently available through Amazon.com and Barnes & Noble.

One of his academic articles was recently cited by the Tennessee Supreme Court, in a published state decision regarding effective assistance of counsel.

With regards to criminal law, he has been a Chief Prosecutor, a Chief Public Defender in Webb County, as well as Chief of the Harris County Public Defenders Mental Health Division. With regards to civil and business matters, he has held the position of corporate counsel for the Texas Mexican Railway, as well as other transportation and fortune 500 companies. He has also represented investigatory and security entities, during his extensive legal career.

He currently practices civil and criminal law in Houston, Texas and holds the position of chief counsel to the Mexican American Sheriffs Association in Harris County, Texas.

Educational Background

Reynaldo holds a BBA, MBA, JD., and QL TT from the University of Oxford - Ox Brooks.